Commissioners court schedules May 31 meet

Upshur County Commissioners Court will consider Thursday advertising for bids to sell 55 of the Upshur County Library's phonograph records which are either damaged, lacking an album cover, or no longer checked out.

Some of the records are scratched or warped, said Librarian Joyce Smith.

The court is also scheduled at its 9 a.m. meeting Thursday to hold an executive session on personnel and contractors and to open bids on two IBM display writers the court wants to sell.

Other items besides routine matters on the court's agenda Thursday include:

-Considering a request to fill an abandoned well in the Pritchett area.

-Considering approval of County Extension Agent Cynthia Shattles's travel plans to go to the National Association of Extension Home Makers meeting in New York City.

-Discussing county Sanitation Inspector Johnny Miller's request to attend a meeting.

-Discussing and possibly approving permits for using Upshur County right-of-way.

-Possibly approving payroll changes.
